

RAYBUCK OUR POLICIES

9. Merchandise that has been altered, shows signs of installation, is torn, marked, soiled or glued, or is not in its original packaging or new condition will not be accepted for return - NO EXCEPTIONS! This policy also applies to items that have been shipped incorrectly to you. Please be sure the time works for your application before you alter it - if you alter it, it's yours!
10. If you have made a return, please allow 2-3 credit card billing cycles for your refund to appear.

DAMAGES/SHORTAGES POLICY

Delivery of merchandise in good condition is the responsibility of the carrier. If possible, inspect your order in the presence of the driver. If there is any damage, refuse delivery of the package. If you have taken delivery of the package and damages are discovered, call the carrier immediately for an inspection. In either instance, call us as soon as possible at (800)334-0230 (9am-5pm EST Mon-Fri) to inform us of the damages. If you have taken delivery of the package, it is important that you keep ALL packing materials intact. The carrier will return to pick up the package at no cost to you. DO NOT return ship the package at your own expense. If you do this, you, in effect, become the shipper and recovery of the loss becomes your responsibility! Regarding damages, it is important to note that sheet metal parts are very susceptible to slight damage due to the nature of the product and the method of shipment. No credit will be issued for sheet metal that has small pecks, dings, scratches or other minor flaws. Any body panel, either reproduction or factory original, requires minor body work when installed. Claims for shortages must be made within 7 days of receipt of order.

DISCLAIMER

Raybuck Autobody Parts will not be held responsible for any damage or loss caused by delays, failures or any other consequential damage arising from any cause whatsoever nor for the labor, transportation or any other charges incurred in the replacement or repair of a defective item. We are not trained automotive technicians - you should contact a local autobody technician for technical assistance, as a degree of skill is required to install most of the products that we sell. We shall not be liable for personal or mechanical damage caused by the use or misuse of products. We are not responsible for typographical errors or errors in production or pricing. We reserve the right to substitute products of similar nature and quality. Manufacturers names (i.e., GM, GMC, General Motors, Chevrolet, Chevy, Ford, Jeep, Dodge, Chrysler, Toyota, Nissan, Volkswagen, Honda, Subaru, Oldsmobile, Olds, Buick, Plymouth, etc.) are used for reference only - we do not claim to be and are in no way affiliated with these companies. We reserve the right to refuse service or shipment to anybody for any reason. All information, including pricing, is subject to change without notice.

RAYBUCK THE RAYBUCK ADVANTAGE

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

The manufacturing process begins with the acquisition of an OEM vehicle body. A vehicle study is performed to not only assess the current rust areas, but also the areas where the rust is likely to continue spreading. After the problem areas are identified the vehicle section is reverse engineered, and a part is carefully designed with the critical dimensions. A physical part is cut from the OEM vehicle and is used to make a 3D scanned image. A computer-aided design (CAD) program is used with this image ensuring the accuracy of part dimensions, body lines and contours during the production of the die and tooling equipment. All-steel dies are produced to enable the production of panels with cleaner body features. Sample parts are then produced and test-fitted on to actual vehicles to ensure proper fit and appearance before production begins.

PRODUCTION

Our parts are manufactured under the rigid guidelines of International ISO 9001 standards in modern high-tech production plants. The presses and forms are continually monitored for stress, position, pressure and accuracy at each stage. This diligence produces easy-to-install panels with proper contours and clean body lines. Panels are then coated with a high quality black primer for shipping and storage protection (this surface should be lightly sanded and re-primed prior to topcoating).

STEEL GRADE = DURABILITY

Manufacturers do not all use the same type of alloy steel to make parts in our industry. The steel grade is indicative of performance. The higher the grade, the better the performance and durability. Our parts are manufactured from one of the highest grades of steel available. The steel is flexible enough to allow precision forming, but dense enough to provide maximum resistance to corrosion and rust.

STEEL GAUGE = STRENGTH

The weight of steel (ounces per square foot) defines gauge. The lower the gauge number, the thicker the steel. Our die-stamped panels are manufactured using at least a 19 gauge steel thickness which meets or exceeds original OEM thickness. When possible and practical, the panels are manufactured using as heavy as a 16 gauge material. The gauge of steel is important for strength. The thicker the gauge, the more resistant it is to pings, dents, bending and stress.

WHAT DOES ALL THIS MEAN?

Since 1985, we have sought out the best products that the aftermarket has to offer. We have eliminated less than quality products from our product line and retained the best of our customers, as complete customer satisfaction is our ultimate goal. You can be confident that the repair panels that you buy from Raybuck Autobody Parts are high quality parts that will meet your exacting standards for strength, durability and fit.
